

What does lead do to your body?

- learning disability
- neurological damage
- speed delays
- increased aggression
- hearing loss
- seizures
- lowered IQ
- coma

CDC 5µg = elevated blood level

* no safe levels of lead in blood

DEMOLITION

Responsible Demolition ✓

Educational Pamphlets

Baltimore Protocol 8 Steps

Better Practices

Dust Suppression
Housing down + Water

Mixing Debris

Final Destination

Green Builders
Warren City Standarts

SAFE GARDENING

HUD Guidelines
Department of Housing and Urban Development's

American Industrial Hygiene Association (AIHA) Testing

Department of Labor

BLOOD TESTING

OSHA
Occupational Safety and Health Administration

Protection Regulation for Construction Workers and Lead Exposure

WORKERS TRAINING

EPA
Environmental Protection Agency

EPA's Lead Renovation, Repair and Painting Rule (RRP Rule)

Safe's Clean Air Act

Air Emission

